

Lenten Priorities

Why do you spend your money for that which is not bread, and your labour for that which does not satisfy? Isaiah 55:2

The call to question our priorities has been a constant one throughout the ages. In this verse we hear Isaiah's voice from millennia before, and it is echoed through the centuries to us today.

What is it that drives us, inspires us, that demands our attention and energies? Sometimes those things are conscious choices. We set ourselves a goal, a challenge, and we work towards it. We sign up for a course, join a club, start a hobby, and we have some sense of where it will lead us. But many times we aren't so aware. We can come to a realization that we've devoted years of our life to something we didn't consciously choose. The job that will keep the wolf from the door, the hobby that your parent introduced you to, the pet your child left you with.

As with all choices both can have positive or negative results. We can accidentally end up devoting our lives to something wonderful, just as easily as we can carefully choose a path that helps no-one at all. This is as true for churches as it is for individuals. We do things, because we've always done them. We don't do things, because we did them before. It is good to learn from our past, but it is also good to metaphorically wipe the slate clean and see what that shows us.

We can only see where our choices have taken us when we stop and look. When we take stock of where we are, where we've been, and where we are heading towards. When we broaden our horizon from our own lives and see how our choices affect those around us.

It is good for us to do this from time to time. Lent provides us with an opportunity to do this reflection in the light of the Jesus story. As we journey again in Lent from Jesus' temptation in the wilderness to his arrest in Gethsemane we are offered so many images and examples of choices in which to look for God's insights into the choices we make each and every day.

With every blessing, *Rev'd David R. Coaker

TLS

These initials stand for 'Training for Learning and Serving' which is very special to the URC as 'not so much a programme, more of an experience'. And it could be for YOU!

In the March 2010 edition of the denomination's monthly journal, 'Reform', there is an article in which 'single mum Vicky Turner describes her gradual journey from a troubled, often isolated background, towards finding faith and community - a journey nurtured by her welcome at her local church and her engagement with a Bible-based training course'. The course in question is TLS. If you are not a subscriber to 'Reform' and would like to read the article for yourself there will be a few photo-copies on the notice board table in church. However the purpose of this piece is to introduce you to the challenge you have been-waiting for, the one provided by TLS.

The courses provided are at a variety of levels. There is TLS Lite, (Local Introductory Training Experiences), a locally arranged self-contained course on a variety of basic Christian discipleship matters. A good easy place to start.

Or there are a series of more formal courses available starting with a two year Foundation Course 'exploring Christian life, spirituality, mission and service from a practical and contextual point of view'. This can then be followed up by selecting one or more of several one year 'Gateway' Courses

Gateways into Worship (used mainly for Lay preaching)

Gateways into Pastoral Care

Gateways into Prayer

Gateways into Evangelism

Gateways into Community Experiences

These provide for working individually, in groups with other TLS candidates, -and could actually lead to a university degree in theology.

There is also a one year 'Performing Arts in Worship' course.

If any of this rings a bell for you have a word with Dave or Ernest.

Vicky must have done something like this in her church.

It changed her life. .

To

Stephen Crump for his work as Church Secretary for the past four years. He has done a splendid job especially in putting his IT skills to use for the church and we will also miss his sense of humour in meetings - and in church announcements.

We also thank Lesley Lowe and Mollie Ward who are willing to share Stephen's old jobs between them. Lesley will be the named Church Secretary and will deal with the computer side of things while Mollie will be acting as Minute Secretary for meetings.

We thank Audrey Pritchard who has resigned from being the Authorised Person for weddings in our church. Dianne Bolan has now taken over this legal responsibility.

We thank Betty Melling for preparing the flowers which were distributed on Mothering Sunday. We also thank Jackie and her team for making up the presentation posies especially on the way they had to deal with the unexpected problem as the flowers had somehow been frozen solid overnight.

From

During the year, and especially around the Christmas season, we make donations or hold special collections for various good causes. As a result several 'thankyou' acknowledgements have been received. From Christian Aid 'Many thanks for your kind donation of £447.10 to help support our work in more than 50 of the world's poorest countries'. The letter suggests that money may have been used for a project in Bolivia to enable a rural community to develop vegetable growing

From Combat Stress, formerly the 'Ex-Services mental Welfare Society' for your kind donation of £85 for ex-Service men and

From The Children's Society 'for your kind Christingle donation of £190.82 to be used for children who are supported by the society's National Mentoring Initiative

From The Woodward Trust for 'your church's very kind donation of £25'. (This is a long established fund begun in the old Lancashire Congregational Union to support retired ministers-or their dependents who have emergencies to deal with).

We have also received a letter from Enfys and Gwilym Jenkins expressing their gratitude for the support which members of the church gave to their mother over the last years of her life. They are conscious of the fact that the church fellowship had become their mother's local family and how much help had been given to her in so many ways.

From David Lamb 'for all your prayers and good wishes during my 2 stays in Barrow Hospital. I am well on the road to recovery now and hope to see you all on the walk in April'.

FUND RAISING EVENTS

I AM APPEALING TO NON-SERVING ELDERS

Each Sunday morning Elders carry out a number of duties on a rota-basis to ensure that worship runs smoothly. Unfortunately, there are now fewer Serving Elders available for the rota.

So I was wondering if any Non-Serving Elders would be willing to go on to the rota for porch and prayer duties.

The Porch Elder opens up church at 10:00am, makes sure that all newcomers & visitors are properly introduced to church, then closes up afterwards.

The Prayer Elder puts up the hymn numbers and Bible page numbers and says a prayer in the Minister's Vestry before worship.

I would be very grateful, if you are a Non-Serving Elder and would be willing to be on the rota. Please see me if you are willing to do either/or both duties (obviously not at once!)

Lesley Lowe

MEMORIAL GARDEN PLAQUES

If you would like a memorial plaque to be placed in the church garden for a loved one you should make that request to the elders' meeting for consideration. (The cost of a plaque, engraved and fixed is £100) Their ashes do not have to be interred there.

United Reformed Church encourages its congregations to take firm stand on racist parties

The United Reformed Church has contacted its leaders and congregations, reminding them of its long standing opposition to extreme right-wing and racist political parties, and urging them to act in accordance with the URC resolution that "The United Reformed Church believes support for extremist parties to be incompatible with Christian discipleship."

The anti-racist resolution was passed in January 2004 and, as the country prepares for a general election, the URC believes it timely to remember and re-emphasise that voting can be seen as both a civic and moral duty - and that support of parties that discriminate on racial grounds has no place amongst Christians.

John Marsh, Moderator of the General Assembly of the United Reformed Church, adds, "As the election approaches I urge all Christians to consider carefully where they place their cross on the ballot paper. Let us focus clearly on the truth that we are all members of one race - the human race. Within God's Kingdom there is no place for racial hatred and I call upon us all to remain firm in our commitment to practise and promote racial justice and inclusion."

More information on countering political extremism can be found by following the links below. The guidelines advise against allowing an extremist party to use church premises and recommends that political parties with racist policies are not invited to participate in election hustings meetings held on church premises.

Take the time to reflect on the Easter story and what it means for you.

A prayer station is a space created to aid reflection.
Around the church there will be numbered spaces for you to visit in turn.

Prayer Network - Street Pastors

Preston & South Ribble

Would you like to be involved in praying for Street Pastors in our area?

We are gathering a team of people who would be willing to be part of a network of people who we link up with to pray for our local Street Pastors.

We hope to link up with people from as many churches as possible in our area. We are going to encourage each church to have a prayer link person to help us communicate with churches about Street Pastors.

Our aims:

To build the Kingdom of God in Preston by praying for: Expansion and growth of Street Pastors to increase the Christian witness on our streets

The Street Pastors to show and share the love of Jesus to people who may have little or no knowledge of the Gospel

The witness of Street Pastors to the statutory authorities

The protection, safety, courage and witness of the Street Pastors

To pray for the operational aspects of the work:

To ensure that each team of Street Pastors is covered by at least one prayer team who know them by name and are committed to being accountable in prayer.

To encourage continued networking and relationship building between churches in this area.

To engage churches not yet involved in Street Pastors work

There is a range of ways you can get involved to include:

- Being on the prayer communication network and receiving weekly emails on items for prayer
- If you are part of a church Life/home/cell/growth group you could 'adopt' a Street Pastor and pray for him/her and the team s/he belongs to.
- You may want to be part of a prayer triplet or a prayer partner to one of the Street Pastors.
- You may just prefer to receive our quarterly newsletter and pray in your own time, at home, for some of the issues we highlight in the newsletter.

We would love to hear your thoughts, ideas and/or interest in becoming involved...

We also need your presence at the event.

STEWARDSHIP 2010

Way back in about 1960 the then Congregational church suggested that individual churches might transform their life by using a stewardship idea which could go under the name Every Person Canvass. Our Leyland church took up the idea and every two years from then on the church membership was challenged to meet the needs of the church for people to give their 'time, talents and treasure' to meet its vision of what it should be doing. We never really achieved our targets but we got close enough to get a good degree of involvement - close enough to have future EPC challenges at increasingly greater intervals.

We did a form of stewardship in 2000, and again in 2003 but not at all since then. At the joint Leyland/Penwortham Elders conference at Windermere the need for a return to former practice at Leyland came up repeatedly so it is proposed that we have a Stewardship campaign again in the autumn of this year.

The first plans are even now being prepared by a small group and it seems likely that October will be the time for our new Every Person Challenge. However it would be all too easy to list the present set of activities without considering if there should be changes and for this we would welcome your ideas. For example we have very little which is for both women and men together; we have very little of a spiritual nature - and if a Bible study group or prayer group was proposed would it/they be better as an evening or a daytime activity? We hear that one church in South Ribble has started an adult 'Youth Club for grownups' to play games and do things like that together. Would we welcome something like that? Is there a nucleus of people who could share in the preparation and leadership of worship perhaps as an integrated Worship Group?

If you have ideas to share or would like to be involved in preparing this EPC Project please have a word with Stella, Linda Barnes or Ernest - or, of course, our Minister.

Ernest Wrennall

RAMBLES AND PLODS

The first Saturday expedition of the year was scheduled to be in the Lancaster area but the snow and ice of early January prevented the necessary planning visits so Ernest sorted out a much more local walk instead. Starting from the Moss Side area the walk followed a route to the south on the west side of the River Lostock and back on the east side, with a detour almost to the edge of Worden Park. The walk was short (3.82 miles), level (total ascent 62 feet) and slow (average speed 1.7mph - these statistics courtesy of the Satellite tracking device brought by Chris. Why so slow? - there were many many stiles and there was lots of mud. But it was good to get out after so many days of ice bound inactivity.

Chris himself led the February walk in the area from Euxton heading southwards on the west side of Chorley to and from the Birkacre Country Park. The weather was splendid being mild, calm and with good visibility though it must be conceded that in some places the mud was deep and sticky. Thank you Chris.

The annual Rambling Club dinner was a great success. There was good food, splendid company, the usual brain challenging Quiz, the usual poetic review of the year and the presentation of the years 'Arnold' awards in such categories as the 'Best Walk (won by David Lamb) and the 'Muddiest Walk '(won by Jan Chapman). And there was also the traditional 'get -your-own-back' section when the above mentioned Chris Baines received the 'Extra Mile' certificate for consistently understating the actual distance of his walks in his preview material. That will teach him!

The first Pensioners Plod of the year was from the Bay Horse in Euxton and a good number of walkers were introduced to country side that was new to most despite being so near to Leyland. The walk was blessed by ideal walking weather and there was very little mud to deal with.

The March outing was basically a River Ribble-side walk from the Fleece Inn in Penwortham.. The weather was good and so was the food though perhaps the arrival of such a large group put the kitchen under pressure for there was a lengthy wait for service.

Ernest

MORE FAMILY NEWS

David Lamb finally had his keyhole surgery on Tuesday and all went well. He was back home on the Wednesday and is feeling (and sounding) really well. Thelma has now hurt her back, so she is suffering a bit now.

GARDENING

Spring is now getting in full swing at the time of writing this article, after the longest, coldest winter in recent memory. I have has an excellent display of crocuses and snowdrops, they really are a cheery sight after such a bad winter. I visited Bank Hall at Bretherton on two Sunday afternoons to view the woodland display of snowdrops (thousands of them), it is open every Sunday during February at a cost of £2.50, well worth the money. It is usually open at Easter time to view the daffodils but they are four weeks late this year.

Now is the time to remove any protection such as bubble wrap or agrifleece from around plants and containers. If you have a greenhouse it needs to be shaded to prevent the strong sun's rays from burning the fresh growth on the plants.

Seeds can be sown in specially prepared fine seed sowing compost in small pots or seed trays. These need covering with glass or cling film to prevent them from drying out. Put in a warm shady place until germination takes place and then move into the light. Follow instructions on the seed packets as some seeds need more warmth than others, some need to be chilled in the fridge to start the germination process, others can be buried , while some must be sown on the surface.

Avant Garden Centre has a great selection of young plants ready for planting into tubs and baskets and if you go on a Tuesday O.A.P.'s get 10% off!

Remember gardening keeps you fit and is a de-stressing therapy so get out there and enjoy yourself.

Enjoy your garden
