

Why Change

What is change? When we hear that something is going to change, most of us immediately think, “Oh no, not again”. The change I want to talk about is the one which is done for continuous improvement. It is going on all the time, with all sorts of things, our cars, washing machines and dare I mention it, our computers, amongst many other things, which indirectly affect our lives. Without continuous improvement, we should all still be living in caves, or worse. Neither would we have our beautiful church building to worship in.

Continuous improvement also affects our church and if you have read our dear friend Ernest’s book, “One Hundred and Fifty Not Out” about the history of our Church, you will be aware of the many changes which have taken place within our Church over many years, most of which were of a continuous improvement nature

To be effective, proposed changes must be looked at very carefully before being undertaken. Is it necessary? Will it be effective (including cost effective)? Will it create other problems? Will it conflict with our Christian beliefs?

We must be careful also not to be negative. The terms; “It has always been this way.” “I like it the way it is.” “I don’t want them replaced”.

With respect to the term “it has always been this way”, I guarantee it hasn’t. Perhaps it may have in the memory of the person concerned. With respect to “I like it the way it is” and, “I don’t want them replaced”, it could be said that this is a selfish attitude or the person concerned has not entered into the discussion about the change, so does not understand the reasoning or the need.

Over the coming years we shall need new members to keep our church building open, for obvious reasons. In the short time that Jean and I have been members, we have seen a notable reduction in membership, which means amongst others, a reduction in income, an insufficient number of people to run the church administration and not enough people to fulfil the normal duties expected of the church.

This cannot go on for ever. If we do not change, our Church shall cease to exist. I urge you to consider seriously whatever changes are proposed in the future. Consider them very carefully. Proposed changes may be vital for the very survival of our church. Please look at them as a team. Make sure they are necessary and viable. Make sure they will be effective and cost effective. Make sure they will not cause other problems. Above all, ensure that the changes do not conflict with our Christian beliefs.

Remember that our Lord God started a great change by sending his Son, Jesus Christ, to live amongst us, to show us how to change, to promote our love and understanding of God and for each other. This change is an ongoing process and will continue until all evil is banished.

With every blessing, Neil R Fow.

A wonderful total of £532.50 was raised much of it being Gift Aided for Christian Aid.

SESSIONS

11/6	25/6	2/7	30/7	06/8	27/8	10/12	14/1	28/1	11/2

Many of the verses of Isaiah are familiar to us as beloved passages we read and sing each Christmas and Easter season. But Isaiah is more than just a holiday reading. Isaiah speaks of God's relationship to the prophet, the people, the kings, and the servant. Isaiah's message invites us to explore God's personal character and develop a deeper understanding of the living God, the Holy One of Israel.

Passages:

- 1: YHWH (God) and the Word, Part One (Isaiah 1)
- 2: YHWH and the People, Part One
- 3: YHWH and Isaiah (Isaiah 6)
- 4: YHWH and Ahaz (Isaiah 7:1–17; 9:1–7)
- 5: YHWH and Hezekiah (Isaiah 36–37)
- 6: YHWH and the People, Part Two (Isaiah 40:1–11)
- 7: YHWH and the Servant (From Isaiah 42, 49, 50, 52–53)
- 8: YHWH and Idols (Isaiah 44:9–20)
- 9: YHWH and the Word, Part Two (Isaiah 55)
- 10: YHWH and All Flesh (Isaiah 66)

Each volume focuses on ten key passages from a book of the Bible and can serve as the basis for a ten-session study or be easily modified for shorter or longer schedules. Featuring maps, illustrations, definitions of key terms, interesting biblical facts and features, questions for reflection or discussion, as well as a leader's guide with suggestions for group use, IBS combines a great heritage of scholarship with a fresh approach to biblical study.

CENTRAL LANCASHIRE GROUP OF UNITED REFORMED CHURCHES

This is the official name of the quartet of churches - Leyland, Penwortham, Fulwood and Kirkham - who are, with our warm approval, being reorganised into a working partnership which will be served by Dave Coaker and one other minister (almost full time!) hopefully in the near future. Dave will primarily be the one dealing with his present congregations but the special contribution of the other minister will be available for all four as required. 'Profiles' of all four churches have been made available to all ministers contemplating a move and all four churches will be involved in the voting procedure for the call of the new member of clergy when a name is presented. Small groups of representative Elders from the four churches have met to discuss the way things might operate and a detailed set of procedures and a constitution is already prepared. It is proposed that, in the presence of members from all four churches at a joint service, a formal signing of the documentation will take place and (note the date now) this will be at Kirkham URC on the afternoon of January 11th 2015. The host church will provide a light lunch before the service. The Four Church 'Worship' group making these arrangements has also, through the good offices of its secretary, Margery Pitcher of Fulwood URC, produced a detailed preaching calendar for all four churches using all the preaching resources from the churches involved to cover the first half of 2015 leaving just a few blank dates for individual pulpit supply secretaries to cover. I note that on February 15th next year the service at Leyland will be in the hands of the 'Leyland Worship Group' Who will take up the challenge? It could be YOU!

Ernest Wrennall
(Member of the Four Church Worship Group)

GETTING TO KNOW U(RC)

At the time of writing these notes, just the first two of the planned series of meetings have been held with very different degrees of success. We began with a very well supported 'Tour of Our Buildings' starting with the 1920s additions, now the Meeting Room - formerly the haunt of the Billiard enthusiasts of the old Men's Fireside - the Primary Room with its colourful wall decorations - and the multi purpose upstairs rooms. Then we went via Quin Street and the church garden (inspecting the foundation stone of the church on the way) before using the wheel chair friendly east side door to look at the church itself both down stairs (with an I-Spy exercise) and upstairs (with a screen projector demonstration) before visiting the underworld of the church and the TFSR workshop in full operation. And we ended with the chequered history of the main church hall. A lot to see giving a great insight into the way our church has altered over the last 138 years. Three weeks later it was the turn of the history of our denomination and how it led to the establishment of Leyland Congs/URC. Not many attended this session which was a shame as a lot of preparation had taken place using our overhead projector equipment. It was history, history all the way starting from Biblical times, through the Roman Empire period leading up to the way the Roman led church spread even through the Dark Ages until the Reformation when changes were demanded from the increasingly worldly government of the Roman Church. We concentrated on the Tudor and Stuart period in this country when the monarchs of alternate Catholic and Protestant sides demanded obedience to their particular sides often on pain of death.

They worshipped and made their decisions independently but were also guided to offer support to one another in 'Unions'- and it was the ongoing spiritual and financial assistance from already existing 'Congregational' churches in Lancashire which gave birth to Leyland Congregational church in the first half of the nineteenth century. We saw evidence from the first pages of the first Minute Book of the Leyland Church to prove it. It was in this difficult time that our spiritual ancestors appeared as the Independent congregations who wanted freedom to worship their personal God and the Bible, now available in their own language, without having to conform to a man made rule book. However only four people were there to share this presentation, two with the same surname, and the quartet had a combined age total of some 326 years. All very historic and, interestingly if measured backwards in time would take us all the way back from 2014 to the year 1688 when the alternate and vicious persecutions of 'opposite' views on religion by Tudors and Stuarts ended and toleration replaced persecution. Session three on 'Worship' will have been held just before this edition of our journal is in your hands with two final sessions to come in October.. The first is on our internal activities, past and present, and our ecumenical relations in the community; the second on our decision making at various levels and our place in the wider world. We hope for your support.

Atlantis Explorer Scout Unit are holding a promises auction to raise funds for all the international trips the young people are going on in 2015 to Cambodia, Greenland, Japan etc. and need everyone's support of both promises for people to bid for and also to bring friends and family along to the auction itself to bid for the promises offered. It is usually a good event and can very be successful – please support us. Monies raised will also support June Holt going to Cambodia as one of the leadership team. Date of auction to be confirmed and list of items to bid for will be sent out in advance.

What we need now are promises that can be added to our list ready for auction. Rather than goods we ask for people donate time, skills or special treats to attract bids. Common promises offered are;

Baby-sitting

Car-washing

Ironing

Guitar lessons

Computer help

Aromatherapy session

Gardening (3 hours of)

Painting and decorating

Use of holiday home

A Chocolate cake once a month for 3 months

Trip out to local Garden Centre for afternoon tea

A hanging basket made up for the spring.

The list really is endless. Everyone can do/offer something. If you have a business such as hairdressing, massage, reflexology offering an auction freebie can also be a great way to market your services to a wide audience and gain new customers.

Please see enclosed sheet and support them if you can.

WHAT'S BEEN GOING ON

Mollie and Peter's Garden Party in early August was a great success both weather wise and financially. Some £750 was raised for church funds. There was a very good attendance with numbers certainly swelled by Mollie and Peter's wide circle of friends, many from the mobile home village across the way. We thank the many people who helped to man the stalls, provide the prizes, items for sale and, perhaps especially, those who dealt with the catering side of things for there were many mouths to feed from the confines of a crowded kitchen. It was a great day and we thank the Wards for opening their house and garden so willingly.

Recycling Day. We thank everyone who helped at and supported this new venture when a number of stall holders had the opportunity to display the clothing and craft goods created from recyclable materials. Mainly by money taken from kitchen, cake stall and the raffle over £200 was made for the church and we thank everyone who helped in any way. Special thanks go to Lorna for making contact with the stall holders and all the other arrangements. In a separate article you will read about the Christian Aid tea and cake event laid on by the Dempsey family at their Great Knowley home. It was another great success to swell the Funds of Christian Aid and the Eczema Society and we thank Alison and Ian, Sally and William for this splendid effort. Other helpers get a word of thanks in that other piece but it is the Dempsey family who deserve the most thanks and this we are pleased to give here.

. Ernest Wrennall

The Ellis Quiz The September version of this (by now) twice yearly event was perhaps the best supported yet. There were 9 teams, each of between four and six people and, with the raffle, a total of £291 was raised for the church. Members from the church were not among the actual winners but it was a good night and while thanking Jackie and the Fund Raising Group members who provided the hotpots and attended to kitchen duties, we especially thank Ellis Cochrane as diabolic question setter and Quiz Master

RAMBLES AND PLODS

The August ramble found us in Downham. A group of nine and one dog met here on a lovely summer afternoon. There were a few 'uppity' bits but these provided us with magnificent views whichever way we looked. We saw a fine herd of Jersey calves which we all enjoyed especially Peter Ward who was taken back to his childhood when his aunt produced Jersey milk. We walked along both sides of the River Ribble and had our brew stop along here sitting on wooden rails which seemed to be part of the horse jumps they use in point to point competitions. Idyllic and most interesting. We had a varied and a enjoyable walk if a tad longer than we are used to. However our leaders Chris and Angela Baines rewarded us with a very welcome stop for a drink at the Assheton Arms which was used in the TV series Born and Bred. A big thank you to them for their efforts on our behalf.

Mollie Ward

In September, a dozen walkers met at the country residence of Stephen Rayton, Arnold and Olwyn's son, near Wrea Green in the middle of the Fylde for a walk which, nominally, Arnold would lead. In the event it was actually James, Arnold's grandson, who was at the front all the way - not bad for a young man not quite ten years old!. He did a superb job. Though overcast, it stayed fine for the afternoon and the going was dry and flat with only two difficult places where we had to force our way through fields planted with corn 'as high as an elephants eye' It was a good walk especially when we arrived back 'chez Stephen' to be greeted and treated to tea and cakes made by Stephen's wife.

GARDENING

We are coming to the end of a really good summer and the gardens are still full of colour. In Worden Park the trees are showing that autumn is here with good colour in the leaves and also showing an abundance of fruit. In the greenhouse it is now time to be cutting back the fuchsia plants and preparing them for winter. Cut them back to about half their size, cutting just above a leaf joint and remove the yellowing leaves. If the weather remains warm they may spring back into growth making new shoots. As long as they are kept frost free this will give a much better plant for next year.

In the garden tidying up time is here, with many herbaceous plants ready to be cut down if they don't carry seeds or fruits which the birds need over winter. Bedding plants are coming to the end of their display and can be removed and composted. Land can be forked over and perhaps planted with spring bulbs, winter pansies, wallflowers and forget me nots. They will give an early delight next spring and be something to look forward to.

Watch out for frosts and be ready to lift dahlia tubers and begonia corms once they have been frosted. These then need drying and storing in a frost free environment for the winter.

Leyland Garden Club are running a coach to Gawsorth Hall near Macclesfield on the 7th December to see floral arrangements and a Christmas Tree festival. Ring 436572 for details if interested.

Enjoy your garden.

GOLDEN OLDIES DAY

On Tuesday 19th August 16 of us from Leyland and several others from the Penwortham district gathered at Penwortham URC for a day aimed at the more mature among us! What a treat there was in store. The day started at 10.30 with morning coffee. We were then entertained by 'Betsy' a.k.a. Jo-anne Halliwell who, ideally dressed for the part, told us how she accidentally became housekeeper in a big house instead of scullery maid in another due to confusion between a job of work and Job from the Bible. Several other misunderstandings ensued and it was a most hilarious and very enjoyable talk. After this we had a delicious lunch which was buffet style so you could choose what you wanted to eat. There was then time for some teasing quizzes. Very tricky, even when we pooled our resources, but all good fun. When we had recovered from that we heard from two members of Afrikat, an unlikely but very brave couple who, so determined to travel to Africa and try to preserve the habitats of cheetahs and leopards, exaggerated their involvement with a local charity. They showed us photographs and explained their work there. Most interesting and real food for thought. Afternoon tea was followed by a delightful musical interlude led by Kate Bradley who played the piano and sang songs that we all know and love. If we knew the words we could all join in. My favourite was 'Hey little hen' naturally. She was terrific as was the whole day and we offer our sincere thanks to the members of Penwortham URC who worked so hard to make this day a real day to remember.

Thank You
Mollie Ward
